

- 511; returns to Professor Bojti's, 513; longings for Allegra, 531; letters to Lord Byron, 532; plans for rescuing Allegra, 535; returns to Pisa, 542; goes to Spezzia, returns, and is hurried back again, 542; learns Allegra's death, 547; returns to Florence, 547; at Casa Magni, 560
- Clarens, Byron and Shelley visit, 312
- Clark, bookseller who published "Queen Mab," 492
- Clifford, Councillor, 53
- Clifton, Mary at, 286
- Coleridge, John Taylor, 444
- Coliseum, 414
- Collins, Mr., father of Mrs. Boinville and Mrs. Newton, 203, 204
- Colonna Palace, Shelley visits, 431
- Como, 386
- Copleston, 109
- Cork, 192
- Corri, singing-master to Claire Clairmont, 362
- Cottage, Chestnut, Shelley's home at Keswick, 95; attack at, 112
- Covent Garden Theatre, Shelley desires to have the "Cenci" represented at, 433
- Critical Review*, Shelley contributes his review of Hogg's novel, 272
- Cuckfield, town in Sussex, residence of Captain Pilfold, 69; Shelley at, 81, 90, 137
- Curran, J. Philpot, 115, 121; Shelley makes his acquaintance, 127
- Curran, Miss, daughter of J. P. Curran, 423; paints Shelley, etc., 423; Mary Shelley's letter to, 425; Shelley's letter to, 434, 452
- Cwm Elan, residence of Mr. T. Grove, 76
- "Cyclops," the, Shelley translates, 442
- D
- Dancers, Miss, Shelley's landladies at York, 89
- Dante, Shelley reads, 368; Shelley on, 396; tomb at Ravenna, 503
- Dare, Mr., Shelley's landlord at Keswick, 103, 113
- David Walter*, the, Hunt's vessel from England, 562
- Dawe, a money-lender, 301
- "Death of the Princess Charlotte, Address to the People on," 377
- "Declaration of Rights," the, 132, 145, 149
- "Deism, A Refutation of," 213
- Dejean's Hôtel de l'Angleterre, Shelley and Byron at, 306, 307
- Del Rosso, lawyer employed against Paolo, 450, 452
- De Quincey, Thomas, 431
- "Devil's Walk," the, 145, 146
- "Doge of Venice" (Byron's), Shelley on, 494
- "Don Juan," 504
- "Don Juan," the. See Ariel
- Drake, Henry, town-clerk of Barnstaple, 151
- "Drama unfinished," portrait of Trelawny in, 522
- Dublin, Shelley arrives at, 116; leaves, 133
- Dunne, Mr., Shelley's landlord in Dublin, 118
- E
- Eaton, Daniel Isaac, pilloried, 143, 145
- Edinburgh, marriage at, 82, 83; Shelley's dislike of, 86; second visit, 212
- Edwards, Mr., first tutor to Shelley, 5
- Eldon, Lord, Lord Chancellor of England, 341; hears Shelley's case, 344; gives judgment, 348
- Elise (Foggi), Swiss nurse to Shelley's children and Allegra, 322, 362; goes to Venice with Allegra, 388; letter from, 389; writes from Venice, 398, 400, 407; leaves Mrs. Shelley, 417; slanders concerning Claire and Shelley, 417, 496
- Ellenborough, Lord, sentences Eaton, 144; Shelley's letter to, 144; his charge at the Hunt trial, 342
- "Endymion," "Hymn to Pan" in, Shelley on, 489
- "Epipsychidion," 393, 472; sent to Ollier, 476, 477

Este, villa at, Lord Byron lends, to Shelley, 402; Shelley's verses at, 405; "Prometheus Unbound" commenced at, 410; leave Este, 411
 Eton, Shelley enters, 9; life at, 10; Shelley not wholly unhappy, 11; reminiscences of, 12
 "Euganean Hills, Lines written among the," 406
 "Eve of St. Agnes," 575
Examiner, the, Leigh Hunt's newspaper, article on the Prince Regent, 168; review of Keats, 330; article on the death of the Princess Charlotte, 377; Shelley reviews "Mandeville" in, 383; "Julian and Maddalo" intended for, 409; Leigh Hunt on "Rosalind and Helen" in, 434; "Mask of Anarchy" written for, not inserted, 438; Leigh Hunt replies to the Quarterly Review article in, 443; announces the death of Keats, 490; Shelley's letter to the editor of, on "Queen Mab," 492, 510
 Eyre, Sir Vincent, 580

F

"Faust," Goethe's, Shelley translates from, 526
 Fenning, Mrs., schoolmistress to H. Westbrook and Shelley's sisters, 63, 64, 68
 Ferrara, Shelley at, 412
 Field Place, birthplace of Shelley, 3; Christmas vacation at, 41; Hogg invited to, 49; Shelley returns to, 70; Shelley's last visit to, 209; Shelley refused admittance to, 274
 Fingall, Lord, 124
 Fitz-Victor, John, supposed editor of the "Posthumous Fragments of Margaret Nicholson," 43
 Florence, Shelleys at, 435
 "Foliage," Leigh Hunt's, Lord Byron on, 402
 Forum, the, Radical Club, 60
 "Frankenstein," origin of, 318, 329, 362; finished, 364
 Freeborn, Mr., 582

G

Gamba, Count, father of Countess Guiccioli, 493; banished from Tuscany, 561
 —, Pietro, brother to Countess Guiccioli, expelled from Romagna, 493; visits at Tre Palazzi, 514, 528
 Garnett, Mr., 472
 Geneva, Byron's journey towards, 305; Shelley's journey towards, 306, 307
 Gibbon, 312
 Gisborne, Mr. John, 389, 395, 403, 423, 430, 435, 440, 445, 551
 —, Mrs. (née Maria James), first married to Mr. Willey Reveley, friend of Godwin, 389, 390; guest of Mary Shelley at Lucca, 403; Shelley invites to Castellamare, 422, 424; excites Shelley to a study of Calderon, 430, 550; letter from Shelley to, 557; Mary Shelley's letters to, 558, 560
 Godwin, Fanny, daughter of Mary Wollstonecraft and Imlay, adopted by William Godwin, invited by Shelley and Harriet to Lynmouth, 139, 156; Shelley's letter to, 171; in Wales, 245; friendliness to Shelley and Mary, 260, 261; warns Shelley of danger, 273; visits to Mary, 283; depression, and letter to Mary, 324; troubles in Skinner Street, 325; relations with Shelley, 326; letters to Mary, 326; defends Mrs. Godwin, 326; letter to Mary from Bristol, 328; goes to Swansea, death, 328 —, Mary Wollstonecraft, at Dundee, 157; meets Shelley, 229; character, 229; readings in St. Pancras' churchyard, 230; attracted by Shelley, 231; Hogg's first sight of, 231; believed Shelley justified, 237; warned by Godwin, 241; Harriet's indignation against, 240; meeting at St. Pancras, 243; elopement with Shelley, 245; "History of a Six Weeks' Tour" by, 246; happiness, 250; "Hate," 257; returns to London, 258; birth of Charles Bysshe Shelley, 263; feeling towards Hogg, 265; relations with Claire, 266; learns Greek, 266; life in London, 267; Godwin's resentment against, 273; parted from Shelley, 274; his letters to, 275; journal, 276; birth and death of first child, 282; feelings towards Claire, 284; joy at her departure, 285; birth of William, 295; ignorant of Claire's relations with Byron, 305; after recollections of Diodati, 313; return from Chamouni, 317; "Frankenstein," 319; at Bath, 322; joins Shelley at Marlow, 323; works at "Frankenstein," 329; letter to Shelley, 335; pleased at the prospect of marriage, 337; comes to London, 337; entry of marriage in journal, 337; at Bath with Claire, 344; joins Shelley in London, 345; at Marlow, 361; "Frankenstein," 362; finished, 364; visits Godwin at Skinner Street, 364; life at Lucca, 391; rides at, 392; studies, 394; Shelley urges her to write a drama, 394; transcribes Shelley's translation of Plato's "Symposium," 395; invites Mr. and Mrs. Gisborne to Lucca, 403; sets out for Este, 403; death of Clara, 405; describes I Cappuccini, 405; arrival at Rome, 414; arrival at Naples, 415; trouble with Paolo and Elise, 417; at Rome, 418; takes drawing lessons, 418; portraits of, 423; grief for William, 428; depression, 429; copies manuscript of the "Cenci," 431; joy at the birth of Percy Florence, 436; attachment to her father, 450; quarrels with Claire, 455; life at Casa Ricci, 455; with Shelley, 456; visits Lucca, 459; finds fault with the "Witch of Atlas," 460; relations with Claire, 464; learns Greek from, and teaches English to, Prince Mavrocordato, 470; admiration for Sgricci, 471; visits Emilia Viviani, 473; Mary Shelley's feeling towards, 474; gives Emilia a chain, 474; to Mrs. Gisborne on Emilia Viviani, 477; upholds Byron's decision with regard to Allegra, 485; letter to Shelley enclosing a letter to Mrs. Hoppner, 497; trip to Spezzia, 511; love for Greek, 512; preparations for the Hunts, 517; meets Trelawny, 521; letter to Claire concerning Allegra, 536; account of Allegra's death, 542; goes to Spezzia with Claire, 543; depression and dislike of Casa Magni, 556; illness, 560; forebodings, 563; Shelley's last letter to, 565; depression, 570; goes to Lord Byron, 572; to Leghorn, 572; crossing the Magra, 573; finding of Shelley's body, 574; desires Shelley to be buried with William, 582; returns to England, 583

Godwin, William, 15; Shelley's letter to, 105; Shelley corresponds with, 106-112; objects to Shelley's Irish pamphlets, 129; Shelley's reply, 130; debate on youthful authorship, 130; declines Harriet's invitation to Fanny Godwin, 139; lectures Shelley, 141; receives Miss Hitchener, 142; visits Lynmouth, 151; meets Shelley and Harriet, 155; exactingness, 170; argues in favour of classics, 171; receives money from Shelley, 213; goes to Doctors' Commons with Shelley, 216; money difficulties, 228; describes Mary, 229; letter to W. T. Baxter on Harriet, 236; ignorant of Shelley's intimacy with Mary, 244; will only communicate with Shelley through an attorney, 261; forbids Fanny to see her sister, 273; coldness to Shelley, 296; returns Shelley's cheque, 296; Shelley's letters to, 297; money disappointment, 323; letter to Mary on Fanny's death, 327; meets Shelley and Mary, 337; at Shelley's marriage, 337; attentions to Mary, 338; comments on Shelley's Chancery paper, 346, 347; invited to Marlow, 362; at Marlow, 363; receives Mary at Skinner Street, 364; publishes "Mandeville," 380; suggests "Lives of the Commonwealth's Men," 394; hostility to Shelley, 450; habit of borrowing, 450; reported to have sold his daughters, 495; renewed complaints and embarrassments, 556

—, William (junior), 158

Godwin, Mrs. William (Godwin's

- second wife), 156; rudeness to Harriet Shelley, 195; makes Mary's home unhappy, 230; follows Shelley and Mary to Calais, 248; letters to Lady Mountcashell, 261; her mendacity, 261; account of Harriet, 262; desires Claire's return, 266; cruelty to Fanny Godwin, 273; violent temper, 284, 325; account of Fanny Godwin's death, 325; present at Shelley's marriage to Mary, 337; sends Elizabeth Parker to Lady Mountcashell, 535
- Goethe, on Spinoza, 173; French philosophy, Holbach's "Système de la Nature," 173
- Goodall, Dr., head master of Eton, 9
- Goring Castle, 2
- "Gray, Rosamund," Charles Lamb's, 434
- Greenlaw, Dr., 7
- Greta Bank, residence of Mr. Calvert at Keswick, 115
- Greta Hall, residence of Southey at Keswick, 103, 116
- Greystoke, seat of the Duke of Norfolk, Shelley's visit to, 97, 98
- Grove, Charles, cousin of Shelley, 21, 60; Shelley confides his plans about Harriet, 79; aids in Shelley's elopement, 82
- , Harriet (Harriett), cousin to Shelley, his first love, 21; recollections of her beauty, 21; their engagement, 22; correspondence with, 46; marries Mr. Helyar, 47
- , John, cousin of Shelley, 61, 82
- , T., maternal cousin of Shelley, 75, 77, 134
- Guiccioli, Teresa, Countess, her influence on Byron, 494; said to be fond of Allegra, 507; in Pisa, Shelley describes, 509; Mary describes, 514, 529
- Guilford, Lord, 515
- H
- "Haimatoff, Prince Alexy, Memoirs of," Hogg's novel, 272
- Halliday, 11
- Hampstead, residence of Leigh Hunt, 331
- Hardy, Mr., baptizes Percy Florence Shelley, 437
- Hawkes, Miss, successor to Mrs. Fenning, 68; discovers the correspondence between Shelley and Harriet, 68
- Hay, Captain, 428, 429
- Hayward, an attorney, 301
- Hazlitt, 355
- Healey (Hill), Dan, 147; arrested, 148; at Tanyrallt, 188
- "Hellas," 410, 512
- Heslop, Mr., brings the Ariel from Genoa, 548
- Hexter, Mr., 10
- High Elms, Shelley's house at Bracknell, 206
- Hitchener, Miss, meets Shelley, 73; appearance, 74; second meeting, 81; invited to York, 89; they meet, 90; letter on Hogg, 93; extract from letter to, 105; urged to go to Ireland, 114; her refusal, 114; letters, 121; names herself "Portia," 122; extracts from Harriet's letters to, 128; scandalous reports, 137; arrives at Lynmouth, 142; accompanies Shelley and Harriet to Wales, 150; visits London with Shelley and Harriet, 155; Shelley wearies of, 161; her departure, 162; reminiscence of, 162; "The Weald of Sussex," 163, 164
- , Mr. (Yorke), forbids his daughter to visit Shelley, 137
- Hogg, Mr., father of T. J. Hogg, 58
- , Thomas Jefferson, 24; meets Shelley, 25; their Oxford intimacy, 29; Hogg's verses, 48; invited to Field Place, 49; "Leonora," 50; expelled from Oxford with Shelley, 55; becomes a lawyer, 60; settled at York, 61; urges on Shelley a legal marriage, 80; visits the Shelleys in Edinburgh, 86; they return with him to York, 88; offers love to Harriet, 92; correspondence with Shelley, 94; intimacy ceases, 95; intimacy renewed, 159; visits Dublin, 192; returns to London, 192; studies Italian with Shelley, 208; stays at Bracknell, 214; sees

- Mary Godwin, 230; visits Shelley and Mary, 265; writes "Memoirs of Prince Alexy of Haimatoff," 272; visits to Bishopsgate, 294; invited to Marlow, 362
- Holbach's "Système de la Nature," Goethe on, 173
- Homeric Hymns, Shelley translates, 382, 526
- Hookham, Mr. Thomas, 145, 168, 173, 177, 184, 195, 263; letter to Shelley, 264; lends £5, 269, 273; letter announcing Harriet's death, 331; accepts the "Six Weeks' Tour," 373
- Hooper, Mrs., Shelley's landlady at Lynmouth, 139, 152
- Hoppner, Mr. and Mrs., 398, 400, 452; Paolo's slander to, 417; believe Paolo's slanders against Shelley, 495; Mary Shelley's letter to, 498; Byron, note to, 501
- Horsham, 2, 275
- Hotel, Cook's, 194; Ryan dines with Shelley at, 235
- Hotel, Lewis's, St. James's Street, Shelley stays at, 155, 156
- Hume, Shelley reads, 177
- , Dr. and Mrs., chosen to take charge of Shelley's children, 350
- Hunt, Leigh, editor of the Examiner, convicted of libel against the Prince Regent, 168; sentenced, 168; declines Shelley's offer of help, 169; reviews "Alastor," "Young Poets," 329; Shelley visits, 331; Shelley and Mary visit, 337; he and Shelley demand the children, 340; social qualities, 356; anecdotes of Shelley, 358; opposes the Government, 360; introduces Shelley to Ollier, 361; invited to Marlow, 362; pecuniary embarrassment, 363; recollections of Mr. and Mrs. Shelley, 383; Shelley dedicates the "Cenci" to, 433; notice of Wordsworth's "Peter Bell," 439; defends Shelley from the Quarterly, 443; illness, 510; proposal that Hunt should come to Italy and start a review with Byron and Shelley, 510; journey to Italy, 517; Shelley sends £150 to, 517; Shelley describes the Williamses to, 525; at Genoa, 562; appearance, 564; gives Shelley Keats's last volume, 566; present at the burning of the bodies of Williams and Shelley, 577; Shelley's epitaph written by, 583
- Hunt, Mrs. Leigh (née Marianne Kent), 357; invited to Marlow, 362; at Marlow, 364; Mary Shelley's letter to, on the death of William, 429; illness at Leghorn, 565
- , Thornton, 357
- Hurstpierpoint, residence of Miss Hitchener, 119
- "Hymn to Intellectual Beauty," 17, 286; published, 434
- "Hymn to Mercury," Shelley translates, 456
- "Hyperion," Shelley on, 490
- I
- I Cappuccini, Byron's villa at Este, 405
- Ilfracombe, 150
- "Irish History, Passages from," 129, 177
- J
- Jones, Elizabeth, her reminiscence of Shelley, 135
- "Julian and Maddalo," written at Este, 408; sent to Hunt, 434
- K
- Kean, Edmund, as Hamlet, 269
- Keate, Dr., master of Eton, 9
- Keats, John, Leigh Hunt's review of, 330; at Leigh Hunt's, 354; illness and death, 488; Shelley's Elegy on the death of, 491
- Kendall, the Rev. John, 340, 349
- Kennedy, Captain, account of Shelley's last visit to Field Place, 209
- Keswick, 95; arrival at, 95; robberies at, 112; Shelley's dislike of, 113; leaves, 115; second visit, 211
- Killarney, Shelley and Harriet at, 191
- King, printer at Abingdon, 50
- Knapp, Mrs., 284

L

- Lady, unnamed, enamoured of Shelley, 303
 Lamb, Charles, 156; admiration for "Rosalind and Helen," 434
 "Lamia," Keats's, 490
 Lanfranchi Palace, Lord Byron's residence in Pisa, 509, 513; weekly dinners at, 514; ground-floor set apart for Hunt, 517, 529, 565, 571
 Lawless, Mr. ("Honest Jack Lawless"), Shelley works with, 128; Shelley and Harriet stay with, 191
 "Laon and Cythna," 370, 378, 379
 Lawrence, Mr. William, 375
 Leeson, Mr., Shelley's Tanyrallt enemy, 188, 267
 Leghorn, Shelley goes to, 389
 "Leonora," novel by Shelley and T. J. Hogg, 49
 Lerici, 453, 563
 Lewis, Matthew Gregory (Monk Lewis), 19, 22; at Diodati, 319; his will, 320
 Lind, Dr., 14; old hermit of "Laon and Cythna," 15
Literary Gazette, article on "Queen Mab," 495
Literary Miscellany, Ollier's, 478
 Lloyd, Charles, 104
 Longdill, solicitor for Shelley in Chancery suit, 342; proposal to take the children, 349
 Lucca, Bagni di, 391
 Lynmouth, 139

M

- M'Millan, Mr., printer of "Laon and Cythna," 379
 Madocks, Mr. Alexander W., 153
 —, Mrs., recollection of Shelley's charities, 366
 "Magico Prodigioso," Shelley translates, 526
 Maglian, Mr., harbour-master at Lerici, 544
 Magra, the, 573
 Manchester massacre, 437
 "Mandeville," novel by Godwin, 323; Shelley's delight in reading, 380

- Marlow, Peacock resides at, 289; Shelley and Mary visit, 323; Shelley visits, 331; resides at, 361; "Hermit of," 361
 "Marlow, the Hermit of," on the death of the Princess Charlotte, 376
 Masi, printing-press of, 434
 —, Serjeant-Major, 528, 529
 "Mask of Anarchy," 438
 Mason, Laretta, 447
 —, Mr. See Mr. W. Tighe
 —, Mrs. See Lady Mountcashell
 —, Nerina, 447
 Mavrocordato, Prince Alexander, 469; introduced to Shelleys by Pacchiani, 470; account of, 470; "Hellas" dedicated to, 512
 Meadows, Mrs., 445
 Medmenham Abbey, 363
 "Medusa" of Leonardo da Vinci, 436
 Medwin, Mr. (senior), lends £25 to Shelley, 85
 —, Thomas, cousin of Shelley, at Sion House, statements concerning Shelley at school, 7; at Field Place, 18; fellow-labourer with Shelley on "The Wandering Jew," 19; on Harriet Grove, 21; Shelley's visit to, in London, 57; account of Byron's intrigue with Claire, 322; Shelley invites to Pisa, 449; quoted, 451; comes to Pisa, 465; describes Shelley, 465; illness, 469; Shelley visits Emilia Viviani in company with, 473; interview with Emilia before her death, 478; mesmerizes Shelley, 482; returns to Pisa, 516
 Meillerie, Byron and Shelley visit, 311
Messenger, Dublin Weekly, article on Shelley, 128
 "Miching Mallecho," signature to dedication to "Peter Bell the Third," 440
 Milan, cathedral at, 386
 Montagu, Mr. Basil, counsel for Shelley in the Chancery suit, 344
 Mont Alègre (Belle Rive), 310, 313
 Montanvert, visitors' book at, 316
 Mont Blanc, poem on, 316, 317
 Montem processions, 11
 Monte San Pellegrino, 460
 Moore, Thomas, 440; Byron presents his "Memoirs" to, 510; warns

Byron against Shelley and Hunt, 514
 Morel, Miss Jeanne, lover of Charles Clairmont, 363
 Mountcashell, Earl of, 448
 —, Lady (Mrs. Mason), Mrs. Godwin's statements to, 235, 261; at Pisa, 447; life with Mr. Tighe, 448; spends a day at Pisa, 463; advice to Claire, 463, 532; Claire visits, 534; Shelley takes leave of, 566
 Munday, publisher, 50, 52
 Murray, publisher, 471

N

Nantgwilt, 134, 137
 Naples, Shelley's journey to, 415
 —, Ode to, 462
 Newton, Mr. and Mrs., vegetarians, 158, 198, 208, 265
 "Nicholson, Margaret, Posthumous Fragments of," 43
 "Nightmare," a romance, 19
 Noel, Lady, death of, 532
 Norfolk, Duke of, intercedes with his father on Shelley's behalf, 98; Shelley's visit to, 98, 114
 Nugent, Mrs., 128

O

O'Connell, Daniel, 125
 "Ode to Liberty," 463
 "Ode to Naples," 462
 "Ode to the West Wind," 442
 "Œdipus Tyrannus, or Swellfoot the Tyrant," 463
 Ollier, publishes "Laon and Cythna," 378; insists on the removal of certain passages, 379; goes to Marlow, 380; publishes "Rosalind and Helen," 397; "Peter Bell the Third" sent to, 440; Shelley's letter on Taaffe's translation of Dante, 471; Ollier's Literary Miscellany, 473; Shelley's defence of poetry meant for, 481, 492
Ollier's Literary Miscellany, 473
 Oxford, Shelley enters University College, 24; expulsion from, 55

Oxford Herald, the "Necessity of Atheism" advertised in, 51
 "Ozymandias, Sonnet to," 397

P

Pacchiani, Francesco, 469; account of, 469
 Packe, Mr., 11
 Paolo (Foggi), servant to Shelley, 412; dismissed, 417; threatens Shelley, 450, 495
 Paris, Shelley and Mary at, 248; second visit, 306
 Parker, Elizabeth, 535
 Peacock, Thomas Love, at Rhayader, 64, 136; visits Shelley at Bracknell, 206; goes to Keswick and Edinburgh with Shelley, 211; Peacock's poems, 212, 239, 242, 243, 268, 270; Shelley takes refuge with, 274; residence at Marlow, 289; ascent of Thames with Shelley, 289; prescribes meat for Shelley, 290; visits to Bishopsgate, 294; on Shelley's delusions, 301; Shelley's letter from Geneva, 313; Shelley and Mary visit, 323, 331; with Shelley at Marlow, 362; Shelley confers an annuity of £100 a year on, 363; Shelley sends a scrap of wood from the door of Tasso's cell at Ferrara, 413; Shelley's letter from Rome, 418, 429; in Ollier's Literary Miscellany, 473
 "People, Irish, Address to," 118
 "Peter Bell" (Wordsworth's), Leigh Hunt on, 440
 "Peter Bell the Third," 440
 "Peterloo" (St. Peter's Field), Manchester massacre, 437
 Phillips, Janetta, poems by, 63
 Phillipses, publishers of "The Necessity of Atheism," 51
 Pilfold, Captain, maternal uncle to Shelley, mediates between Shelley and his father, 69, 81; generosity to Shelley and Harriet at Edinburgh, 86, 89, 99, 114, 137
 —, Mrs., 137
 Pisa, 444; Shelleys settle in, 445, 488
 Plato, the "Symposium" of, 395 Poems, unpublished, 135; "The

- Voyage," 143; "To Harriet :
May, 1814," 224
"Poetry, A Defence of," 479
"—, Four Ages of," article by Peacock in Ollier's Literary Miscellany, 473
Polidori, physician to Lord Byron,
305, 308, 310, 322
"Political Justice," Godwin's, Shelley reads, 15, 105, 108, 129, 131, 263,
267, 305, 325, 341, 371
Pompeii, visit to, 415
Pope, Dr., of Staines, 294
Poschi, Marchese, villa of, at Pugnano (Williams's), 487
"Pot of Basil," the, 490
"Prometheus Unbound," 410, 420,
422; writes the fourth act of, 442
"Promise," the, play by Edward Williams, 488
"Prophecy of Dante," Byron's, 503

Q

- Quarterly Review*, article in, 443;
Shelley ascribes to Southey, 444
"Queen Mab," 97; Shelley engaged on, 143, 178; in Hookham's hands,
195; Mary Godwin's copy of, 226,
240; a copy sent to Byron, 307;
used against Shelley in the Chancery suit, 341, 342, 348; Mr. Baxter's opinion of, 492

R

- "Ratiocinatory, or Magazine for Truth and Good Sense," 144
Ravenna, Byron at, 452
"Reform, A Proposal for putting to the Vote throughout the Kingdom," 361, 458
"Reform, Philosophical View of," 440
Rennie, schoolfellow of Shelley at Eton, 7
Reveley, Henry, son to Mrs. Gisborne by a former husband, Shelley's interest in the steamboat, 445, and note; at Pisa with Shelley, 455, 483; account of the boat accident at Pisa, 483

- "Revolt of Islam," 380, 382; Quarterly Review, article on, 443
Reynolds, John Hamilton, 329; at Leigh Hunt's, 354
Rhayader, Mr. T. Grove invites
Shelley to, 76; Shelley meets
Peacock, 136
"Rhododaphne," Shelley's review of,
383
Roberts, Captain Daniel, 520, 524,
542, 561, 567, 572
Rome, Shelley on, 414; English burying-place at, 414, 418
Romilly, Sir Samuel, counsel for the Westbrooks, 342, 344
"Rosalind and Helen," 369; finished, 397
"Rosicrucian, St. Irvyne, or the," 41, 43
Rousseau, Lord Byron on, 312
Ryan, Mr., 235

S

- St. Anna, Convent of, Emilia Viviani imprisoned in, 472; description of, 473
St. Giles-in-the-Fields, parish church of, Shelley's children and Allegra baptized at, 384
"St. Irvyne, or the Rosicrucian," 41;
published, 43; failure of, 111
St. Pancras, churchyard of, 230;
Shelley and Mary meet at, 243;
Mary's visit to, 267
St. Peter's, Shelley's disappointment at, 419
San Giuliano di Pisa, Baths of, 487
Sarzana, fisherman of, his story, 581
Sécheron, 307
Segati Marianna, 387
"Sensitive Plant," the, 523
"Serchio, Boat on the," poem by Shelley, 488
—, Shelley sails on, 487
Serpentine, the, Harriet Shelley's body found in, 332, 334
Severn, friend of Keats, at Shelley's
burial, 582
Sgricci, improvisatore, 471
Shelley, Sir Bysshe, grandfather of Percy Bysshe Shelley, 1; proposes to entail the estate, 99; declines to

- give Shelley money, 259; death, 275; possessions of, 277
- Shelley, Charles Bysshe, son of Shelley and Harriet, born, 263; to appear in Court, 263; plaintiff in the Chancery suit, 341
- , Clara Everina, daughter of P. B. and Mary Shelley, 368; baptized, 384; illness at Este, 404; death at Venice, 405
- , Elizabeth (née Pilfold), mother of P. B. Shelley, 3; intercepts a letter from P. B. Shelley to his father, and urges him to visit Field Place, 62; is anxious to receive Shelley and Harriet at Field Place, 196; invites Shelley to Field Place, 209
- , Elizabeth, eldest sister of P. B. Shelley, 22, 48; pleads his cause with Harriet Grove, 46; P. B. Shelley designs a marriage with J. T. Hogg, 47; sympathy with Shelley, 48; at Field Place, 69; change of character, 71
- , Elizabeth Jane Sidney, second Mrs. Bysshe (née Perry), 2
- , Harriet. (See Westbrook, Harriet.)
- , Hellen, sister of P. B. Shelley, died, 4
- , Hellen (second Hellen), sister of P. B. Shelley, reminiscences of Shelley's boyhood, 4; joint author of a play with Shelley, 19; at Miss Fenning's school, 64
- , Ianthe, birth of, 200, 202, 207, 218; plaintiff in the Chancery suit against her father, 341
- , John, brother of P. B. Shelley, 4, 278
- , Lady, 583
- , Margaret, sister of P. B. Shelley, 4
- , Mary, sister of P. B. Shelley, introduces P. B. Shelley to Harriet Westbrook, 63
- , Mary Catherine, first Mrs. Bysshe (née Mitchell), grandmother of P. B. Shelley, 2
- , Mary. (See Mary Godwin.)
- , Percy Bysshe, ancestry, 1; birth, 3; early delight in romance, etc., 4; first tutor, 5; sent to Sion House Academy, 5; appearance, 5; persecuted by schoolboys, 6; interest in science, 8; first friendship, 8; enters Eton, 9; refuses to fag, 10; persecution, 10; friendship with Dr. Lind, 14; self-dedication, 17; goes to Oxford, 18; literary aspirations, 19; writes "Nightmare" and "The Wandering Jew," 19; writes "Zastrozzi," 20; love for Harriet Grove, 21; publishes "Poems by Victor and Cazire," 22; enters Oxford, 23; meets T. J. Hogg, 24; Shelley's appearance and manners, 27; voice, 28; sleepiness, 30; love of books, 33; studies Greek, 35; his generosity, 36; love of children, 37; courtesy, dress, 38; food, 39; publishes "St. Irvyne," 43; quarrels with his father, 45; rejected by Harriet Grove, 46; plans a marriage between his sister and Hogg, 48; transactions with Stockdale, 49; returns to Oxford, and poems on "Mary," 49; publishes "The Necessity of Atheism," 50; expulsion from Oxford, 53; settles in London, 57; negotiations with his father, 58; speech at the Forum, 60; studies medicine, 60; solitude, 61; visits to Mrs. Fenning's school, 63; Harriet Westbrook, 63; corresponds with her, 65; allowed £200 a year by his father, 70; returns to Field Place, 70; depression, 72; meets Miss Hitchener, 73; correspondence, 75; illness at Cwm Elan, 77; resolves to rescue Harriet Westbrook, 79; resolves to study medicine, 81; elopement, 82; marriage, 83; want of money, 85; life in Edinburgh, 86; arrival at York, 88; friendship with Miss Hitchener, 89; goes to Cuckfield, 90; learns Hogg's perfidy, 92; ceases to correspond with him, 95; arrival at Keswick, 95; literary enterprises, 96; poverty, 98; visits Greystoke, 98; refuses to entail the estate, 99; meets R. Southey, 102; reads Berkeley, 104; letters to William Godwin, 106; hallucinations, 112; decides to visit Ireland, 113; arrival in Dublin, 116; "Address to the Irish People," 118; Association of Philanthropists, 119; letters to Miss Hitchener, 121; speaks on Catholic Emancipation, 124; dislike of Curran, 127; vegetarianism, 129; debate with Godwin on the "Irish Campaign," 129; Dublin to Holyhead, 133; Nantgwilt, 134; "On Emmet's Grave," 135; to Cwm Elan, 135; meets T. L. Peacock, 136; leaves Nantgwilt, 138; Lynmouth, 138; "The Voyage," 143; "Retrospect of Times of Old," 143; works at "Queen Mab," 143; letter to Lord Ellenborough, 144; the "Devil's Walk," 145; fire-balloons, etc., 145; troubles at Barnstaple, 148; Tremadoc, 153; Tanyrallt, 154; London, 155; meets Godwin, 155; meets Mr. and Mrs. Newton, 158; renewed friendship with T. J. Hogg, 159; tires of E. Hitchener, 161; leaves London, 164; his generosity, 165; pecuniary embarrassment, 167; sympathy with J. and L. Hunt, 168; letter to Fanny Godwin, 171; argues against classical reading, 172; reads Kant and Spinoza, 173; studies French philosophy, 173; dislike of history, 175; Christianity, 178; "Queen Mab" and "Early Poems," 179; outrage at Tanyrallt, 184-190; second visit to Dublin, 190; Killarney, 191; returns to London, 193; Cooke's Hotel, 194; negotiations with his father, 196; Bracknell, 197; Harriet's carriage, 198; food, etc., 199; love of Ianthe, 201; intimacy with the Boinvilles, 202; out of sympathy with Harriet, 207; sonnet on Harriet's birthday, 207; studies Italian, 208; last visit to Field Place, 209; attains his majority, 210; post-obit bonds, 210; second visit to Keswick, 211; second visit to Edinburgh, 212; "A Refutation of Deism," 213; Bracknell, 214; pecuniary difficulties, 215; re-marriage to Harriet, 216; domestic troubles, 217; hatred of E. Westbrook, 219; depression, 221; poem

"To Harriet: May, 1814," 224; views on marriage, 227; meets Mary Godwin, 229; their mutual attraction, 230; poem "To M. W. Godwin: June, 1814," 232; consideration for Harriet, 233; believes himself justified in leaving her, 235; correspondence with Southey, 238; takes laudanum, 243; elopes with Mary Godwin, 243; journal, 247; arrival in Paris, 249; journey through France, 249; letter to Harriet, 251; arrival at Brunnen, 253; "The Assassins," 254; leaves Brunnen, 255; reaches Rotterdam, 257; returns to London, 258; poverty, 259; relations with Harriet, 261; Charles Bysshe Shelley born, 263; renewed friendship with Hogg, 265; relations with Claire, 266; life in London, 266; reading, 267; paper boats, 270; money troubles, 272; leaves St. Pancras, 274; excluded from Field Place, 276; negotiations on the subject of entail, 277; debts, 279; get £1000 a year, 279; settles £200 a year on Harriet, 280; threatened with consumption, 280; attracted to the study of medicine, 281; tour in Devon, 286; settles at Bishopsgate, 288; love for the Thames, 289; improved health, 290; devotion to Mary, 291; literary plans, 293; negotiations with his father, 295; relations with Godwin, 296; motives for leaving England, 302; the unnamed lady, 303; starts for Geneva, 304; boating at Sécheron, 307; acquaintance with Byron, 308; Mont Alègre, 309; round Lake Lemán with Byron, 311; St. Gingoux, Chillon, Clarens, 312; return to Mont Alègre, 313; love of England, 314; designs for travel, 315; visitors' book at Montanvert, 316; poem to Mont Blanc, "Hymn to Intellectual Beauty," 316; ghosts, 318; witnesses M. G. Lewis's will, 320; Versailles, 320; in London, 322; at Marlow, 323; cannot send money to Godwin, 323; follows Fanny Godwin to Bristol, 328; ill-health at Bath, 329; reads proofs of "Childe Harold," 329; visits Leigh Hunt, 331; returns to Bath, 331; loses sight of Harriet, 332; seeks her, 332; receives notice of her death, 334; claims his children, 335; letter to Mary, 335; grief for Fanny Godwin, 336; decides on immediate marriage, 337; letter to Claire, 338; Chancery suit, 340; answer to the children's Bill of Complaint, 341; statement for Chancery Court, 344; views on marriage, 345; proposes Mr. and Mrs. Longdill to educate the children, 349; proposes Dr. and Mrs. Hume, 350; Shelley's will, 352; grief for Harriet, 353; apprehensions, 354; reminiscence of Hunt, 354; becomes acquainted with Reynolds, Keats, and Hazlitt, 354; at Hunt's, 355; companionship with Thornton Hunt, 356; pain in the side, 356; plays, 357; love of jest, 358; charity, 358; "A Proposal for putting Reform to the Vote," 361; study at Marlow, 362; visitors, 362; visit to Bisham Wood and Medmenham, 363; appearance, health, etc., at Marlow, 364; charities at Marlow, 366; anguish at losing his children, 367; poetical designs, 368; "Prince Athanase," 369; writes a fragment of "Rosalind and Helen," 369; "Laon and Cythna," 369; translates Spinoza, 373; failing health, 374; contemplates a journey to Italy, 375; "An Address to the People on the Death of the Princess Charlotte," 377; distress at Ollier's decision concerning "Laon and Cythna," 379; revision of "Laon and Cythna," 380; informs Godwin of his going to Italy, 380; letter to Godwin, 381; illness at Marlow, 382; translates the Hymns of Homer, 382; love for Marlow, 383; starts for the Continent, 385; at Milan Cathedral, 386; at Como, 386; warns Claire to keep Allegra, 387; Leghorn, 389; reads Greek, 389; visits Lucca, 390; the Italians, 391; bathing-place at Lucca, 393; studies at, 393; translate the "Symposium" of Plato, 395; effect of Catholic poets on, 396; starts for Venice with Claire, 398; to Mary from Florence, 398; Venice, 399; to Mary from Venice, 400; interview with Byron, 402; Byron lends his villa at Este, 403; study at I Cappuccini, 405; on Byron at Venice, 407; writes "Julian and Maddalo," 408; portraits in, 408; fragments of Tasso, 409; projected poem on the Book of Job, 410; "Prometheus Unbound," study of Greek, 410; delivers Allegra to her father, 411; sees relics of Ariosto and Tasso at Ferrara, 412; studies of paintings at Bologna, 413; arrives at Rome, 414; admiration for the Coliseum, 414; journey to Naples, 415; illness at, 416; depression, 416; classical studies, 418; feeling for Michael Angelo, 419; writes "Prometheus Unbound" in the Baths of Caracalla, 420; longing for England, 422; sits to Miss Curran for portrait, 423; letter to Peacock on William's death, 425; verses on, 426; at Livorno, 427; longing for English friends, 429; study and life at Villa Valsovano, 430; "Cenci," 431; Shelley's Annus mirabilis, 432; wishes to conceal the authorship of his poems, 433; at Florence, 435; writes "Songs and Poems for the Men of England," 437; "Mask of Anarchy," 438; Shelley's Liberalism, 439; "Peter Bell the Third," 440; "Prometheus" finished, 442; writes "Ode to the West Wind," 442; the Quarterly article, 443; decides to leave Florence, 444; at Pisa, 446; indignation with Godwin, 450; Paolo's slander, 451; assault at Pisa, 451; letter to Byron interceding for Claire, 454; writes the "Skylark," 455; studies with Mary, 456; translates "Hymn to Mercury," 456; correspondence with Southey, 457; ascends Monte San Pellegrino, 460; writes the "Witch of Atlas," 460; writes "Ode to Liberty," "Ode to Naples," 462; writes "Swellfoot

- the Tyrant," 463; letter to Claire at Florence, 464; returns to Pisa, 466; social qualities, 468; introduced to Prince Mavrocordato, 469; visits Emilia Viviani in company with Medwin, 473; feelings towards Emilia, 475; disillusioned by E. Viviani, 477; "Defence of Poetry," 478; health, 481; mesmerized by Medwin and Jane Williams, 482; boating at Pisa, 483; upholds Byron's decision with regard to Allegra, 485; relations with Keats, 488; letter to the Quarterly Review on "Endymion," 490; writes "Adonais," 491; leaves for Ravenna, 494; slanders concerning Shelley and Claire Clairmont, 495; Shelley's letters to Mary, 495, 502; relations with Byron, 506; anxieties for Allegra, 507; his visit to her, 508; returns to Pisa, 509; proposes to start a review in connection with Byron and Leigh Hunt, 510; trip to Spezzia, 511; writes "Hellas," 512; society at Pisa, 514; riding and shooting with Byron, 516; generosity to Hunt, 517; meets Trelawny, 519; at Spezzia, 524; ideal woman, 525; admiration for Jane Williams, 525; mode of working, 527; affair with Masi, 528; dislike of Byron, 535; indignation with Byron, 535; letters to Claire about Allegra, 536-542; good health, 548; vision of Allegra, 548; seamanship, 549; dislike of Byron, 551; rest, 553; writes "The Triumph of Life," 553; joy, 554; thought of suicide, 554; on religion, 556; visions, 560; books from England, 563; meeting with Hunt at Leghorn, 564; Sunday in Pisa, 566; body found at Via Reggio, 574; body burned, 577; thoughts on death, 581; buried, 583; epitaph, monument to, at Christchurch, 583
- Shelley, Percy Florence, born, 436; baptized, 437, 552, 570; succeeds to the baronetcy, 583
- , Sidney, Sir John, names Percy Bysshe Shelley for the Leicester Exhibition, University College, Oxford, 23, 277
- Shelley, Timothy, father of P. B. Shelley, a student of University College, Oxford, 2, 23; marriage, 2; residence at Field Place, 3; indulges Shelley's "printing freaks," 24; refuses to pay Stockdale's bill, 45; warned by Stockdale, 45; letter to Shelley, 46; forbids Hogg to visit Field Place, 58; threatens to renounce Shelley, 59; visits to Mrs. Fenning's school, 68; allows Shelley £200, 69; Shelley's estimate of, 70; forbids Shelley's visit to York, 76; indignation at Shelley's marriage, 85; stops his allowance, 85, 90; proposes that Shelley should entail the estate, 99; Shelley's letters to, 100; allowance renewed, 102; refuses money, 167; renewed negotiations, 210, 212; succeeds to the baronetcy, 276; refuses admittance to Shelley, 276; negotiations, 278; gives Shelley £1000 a year and pays his debts, 279; negotiations for the sale of Shelley's reversion, 323, 331; refuses to increase Harriet's allowance, 331
- Shelley, William, son of Shelley and Mary Godwin, born, 295, 309; at Bath with Elise and Claire, 322, 337; birthday, 344; baptized, 384, 403; at Rome, 412; Miss Curran's portrait of, 424; illness, 424; death, 425; buried in the English cemetery, 425
- Shenley, Captain, 579
- Sherwood, Neely, & Jones, Messrs., publishers of "Laon and Cythna," 378
- Sidmouth, Lord, Secretary of State for the Home Department, 149, 151
- Sion House Academy, 5
- "Six Weeks' Tour, History of," 246; accepted by Hookham, 373
- "Skylark," 456
- Slatter, publisher, firm of Munday & Slatter, 50, 52
- Slinfold, 276
- Smith, Horace, at Marlow, 362, 491, 555, 557
- "Songs and Poems for the Men of England," 437
- Sonnet to Harriet on her eighteenth birthday, 207

Sophocles, volume found in Shelley's pocket, 574
 Southey, Robert, Shelley meets, 102 ; kindness to Shelley, 103, 105, 113 ; absent on Shelley's second visit to Keswick, 238 ; Shelley sends "Alastor" to, 296 ; Shelley ascribes the Quarterly article to, 444 ; correspondence with Shelley, 457
 Spezzia, holiday trip to, 511
 Spinoza, 173 ; Shelley translates from, 374, 445
 Spoleto, 413
 "Stanzas, April, 1814," 223
 Stockdale, Irish publisher, 147 ; keeps possession of Shelley's manuscript, 178
 —, John Joseph, bookseller and publisher, 22 ; Shelley's transactions with, 41, 43 ; warns Mr. T. Shelley of his son's unorthodoxy and of Hogg's, 45
 Stoke Park, 12
 Street, Chapel, Grosvenor Square, Mr. Westbrook's residence, 63, 193
 —, Chester, Grosvenor Place, residence of Mrs. Newton, 158
 —, Coney, No. 20, Shelley's lodgings at York, 89
 —, Cuffe, No. 35, St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, Shelley's lodgings on his second visit to Dublin, 191
 —, Fishamble, Dublin, 124
 —, Grafton, No. 17, Shelley's second residence in Dublin, 126
 —, Half Moon, lodgings of Shelley and Harriet, 198
 —, Margaret, No. 56, Cavendish Square, lodgings of Shelley and Mary, 261
 —, Queen, Brompton, Harriet's residence at the time of her death, 332
 —, Sackville, No. 7, Shelley's first residence in Dublin, 118
 —, Skinner, residence of William Godwin, 106, 155, 195, 229 ; Mary and Claire leave, 245 ; Shelley and Claire visit, 274 ; Shelley sells his microscope, 275 ; Claire will not return to, 284, 301 ; Fanny Godwin at, 325 ; Shelley and Mary at, 337 ; Shelley's loneliness at, 338 ; Mary at, 364
 Stukely, Jeremiah, 52

Susa, 385
 "Sussex, The Weald of," poem by Miss Hitchener, 163
 Syle, Mr., printer of Shelley's letter to Lord Ellenborough, 144
 "Symposium" of Plato, Shelley translates, 395
 Swansea, 150

T

Taaffe, 471, 516, 528
 Tanyrallt, 112, 155 ; attempted assassination at, 184, 190
 Tasso, 208 ; Shelley's design to write a drama on, 410 ; relics of, at Ferrara, 412
 Tavernier, 249
 Taylor, William, of Norwich, creditor of Godwin, 363
 Thames, ascent of, 289
 Theatre, Fishamble Street, 124
 Tighe, Mr. William (Mr. Mason), 447 ; goes to Venice and Ravenna to inquire for Allegra, 531, 538
Times, newspaper, 581
 Tita, Byron's Venetian servant, 504, 529
 "Tractatus Theologico-politicus," 514
 Tre Donzelle, 445, 451, 465
 Trelawny, Edward John, meeting with Shelley, 519 ; Shelley describes, 521 ; describes Shelley, 522 ; at the Tre Palazzi, 523 ; with Mary Shelley and Claire to Spezzia, 543, 549 ; names the boat "Don Juan," 551, 564 ; with Mary and Jane, 569 ; returns to Casa Magni, 575 ; exertions for the removal of the bodies, 576 ; present at the burning of the bodies, 576 ; purchases a grave near Shelley's, 582
 Tremadoc, town of, 153 ; Shelley starts a subscription for, 165, 166
 Tre Palazzi di Chiesa, 513 ; readings at, 514, 523
 "Triumph of Life, The," 553
 Turner, Cornelia (née Boinville), 208, 209, 214, 218, 222

U

University College, Oxford, Shelley at, 23-40

V

- Vaccà Berlinghieri attends Masi, 530 ;
opinion of Mrs. Hunt, 565
Vaga, the, Shelley's boat at Marlow, 365
"Valperga," novel by Mary Shelley, 466
Valsovano Villa, 435
Vavassour, Mrs., proposes to adopt
Allegra, 452
Velino, Falls of, 413
Venice, Clara dies at, 405 ; Mrs.
Shelley at, 406
Versailles, Shelley on, 320
Vesuvius, 416
Via Reggio, 560 ; small boat found at, 573 ; Shelley's body found at, 574
Vice, Society for the Suppression of,
493
"Victor (and Cazire), Poems by," 22, 23
Villa Diodati, 309, 318
"Vision of Judgment," 265
Vivian, Charles, 567 ; body found,
575
Viviani, Emilia Teresa, 469 ; Pacchiani, tutor to, 472 ; in the convent of St. Anna, 472 ; Medwin's account of her beauty, 473 ; Mrs. Shelley's feelings to Emilia, 473 ; her visits to, 474 ; Mary Shelley gives her a chain, and invites to her house, 474 ;
learns English from Claire Clairmont, 474 ; letters to Shelley and Mary, 474 ; verses, 476 ; "Epipsychidion," 477 ; Mary Shelley on, 477 ; married to Biondi, 477 ;
death, 478
"Voyage, The," unpublished poem,
143

W

- Walker, Adam, 8
Walker, Rev. John, finds "The Necessity of Atheism" in a bookshop, 52
"Wandering Jew, The," 19
Warne, Miss, 91
Warnham, 4
Warwick, Shelley's children at, 335

- "Werther, Sorrows of," 94
Westbrook, Eliza, sister to Harriet, 63, 64 ; attentions to Shelley, 66 ;
corresponds with him, 73 ; joins Harriet at York, 90 ; Hogg's account of, 91 ; at Keswick with the Shelleys, 94 ; visit to Greystoke, 98 ; arranges to go to Ireland, 114 ;
crosses with Shelley and Harriet,
116 ; housekeeper and purse-keeper,
121 ; in London, 155, 160 ; her dislike of Miss Hitchener, 161 ;
threatened at Tanyrallt, 184, 190 ;
goes to Ireland, 191 ; in Killarney,
193 ; with the Shelleys in London,
194 ; Ianthe named after her, 201 ;
at Bracknell, 210 ; at Keswick, 211 ; in Edinburgh, 212 ; returns to London, 212 ; Shelley's increased dislike, 219 ; leaves the Shelleys for Southampton, 223 ; with Harriet, 241 ; affirms that Harriet lived at her father's, 322 ; Harriet driven from home by her influence, 334 ;
determines to dispute Shelley's claim to his children, 340 ; desires to leave the children with Mr.
Kendall, 349 ; petitions against
Dr. Hume, 350
—, Harriet, 63 ; appearance, 64 ;
correspondence with P. B. Shelley, 65 ; letter to Miss Hitchener, 65 ;
school persecution, 68 ; persecuted at home, 78 ; throws herself on Shelley's protection, 79 ; summons him to London, 82 ; elopement, 83 ;
marriage, 85 ; reading aloud, 88 ;
respect for E. Westbrook, 90 ; repulses Hogg's advances, 92 ; visits Greystoke with Shelley, 98 ; her father allows her £200 a year, 102 ;
love for the Irish, 121 ; illness at Nantgwilt, 137 ; visits London with Shelley, 155 ; receives T. J. Hogg,
160 ; dislike of Miss Hitchener,
161 ; Shelley's happiness with, 166 ;
her love of Irish music, 166 ; studies
Latin, 166 ; note to Hookham, 185 ;
account of the assassination at Tanyrallt, 190 ; love for Ireland, 191 ; returns with Shelley to her father's house, 193 ; dislike of Mrs.
Godwin, 195 ; aspires to be fashionable, 198 ; ignorance of house-

- keeping, 199; Ianthe born, 200; Ianthe given to a nurse, 207; ceases to study, 208; with Shelley at Keswick, 211; happy in Edinburgh, 212; returns to London, 213; re-marriage to Shelley, 216; out of sympathy with Shelley, 217; frivolity, 220; absent from Shelley, 223; poem "To Harriet," 224; her hardness, 225; at Bath, 226; letter to Hookham, 233; Shelley believes her unfaithful, 235; rejected by Shelley, 237; Shelley's letter from Troyes, 251; interview on his return, 262; threatens Shelley and Godwin, 263; Charles Bysshe Shelley born, 263; recriminations, 264; Shelley settles £200 a year on, 280; in communication with Peacock, 331; applies to Sir Timothy Shelley for increased allowance, 331; influence of Shelley on, 333; driven from her father's house, 334; early inclination towards suicide, 334; her death, 332, 334
- Westbrook, Mr. John, father of Harriet Shelley, 63; invites P. B. S. to Wales, 75; harshness to Harriet, 79; allows Harriet £200 a year, 102; Shelley and Harriet visit, 193; present at Harriet's re-marriage, 216; continues Harriet's allowance, 280; determines to dispute Shelley's claim to his children, 340; defendant in the Chancery suit, 341; wishes to leave the children with Kendall, 349; provides £80 a year for the children, 350; petitions against Dr. and Mrs. Hume, 350
- Wetherell, Mr., counsel for Shelley in the Chancery suit, 342
- Whitton, Mr., lawyer, P. B. S. referred to, 277, 278
- Williams, Edward, curate of St. George's Church, re-marries Shelley and Harriet, 216
- Williams, Edward Elliker, translates Spinoza with Shelley, 374; arrives at Pisa, 479; causes the boat on the canal to upset, 483, 487; Tre-lawny with, 520; house-hunting at Spezzia with Shelley, 524; journal on the affair with Masi, 528; at Casa Magni, 546; on the Ariel, 548; on "Queen Mab," 551; eagerness to return to Casa Magni, 567; body found, 575; burned, 577
- Williams, Jane, 480; mesmerizes Shelley, 482, 487, 515; Mrs. Shelley on, 524; Shelley's poems to, 525; "Ariel to Miranda," 527; at Lerici, 546; persuaded to boat with Shelley, 550; Shelley on, 561; at Leghorn, 572
- , Mr. John, agent to Mr. Madocks, 154, 164, 190
- , Mrs. John, 165; reminiscences of the Tanyrallt affair, 187
- Winckelmann, 415
- Windsor, Shelley takes a house at, 213
- Windybrow, residence of Mr. W. Calvert, 102
- "Witch of Atlas, The," 456, 460
- Wollstonecraft, Everina, 260; her harshness to Fanny Godwin, 324, 327
- , Mary, first wife to Godwin, 239; her grave, 230, 243; her daughter, 267
- Wordsworth, William, "Peter Bell," 439, 440
- Woulfe, Chief Baron, recollection of Shelley, 125

Y

- York, Hogg at, 61; Shelley and Harriet at, 83; journey from Edinburgh to, 88; lodgings at, 89; E. Westbrook arrives at, 90; Shelley and Harriet leave, 94

Z

- "Zastrozzi," romance by P. B. Shelley, 20, 21, 271
- "Zucca," verses on, 513

24/2

